Touring and Promotion

First of all, if you're using Eventontronic to apply to a festival as a one off, there's probably nothing here for you - move along. BUT if you intend to take your show or event on the road, apply to multiple festivals or make it possible for promoters, venues and festivals to contact you or invite you to perform, you'll find some useful tools here.

Fill out your profile

Every show in Eventontronic can have a profile that's visible to other users. This means promoters, press, programmers, venues and festivals can find you. Fill out the the top three sections on the right to provide as much info as possible. Filling out your profile can also help save time when you register with festivals.

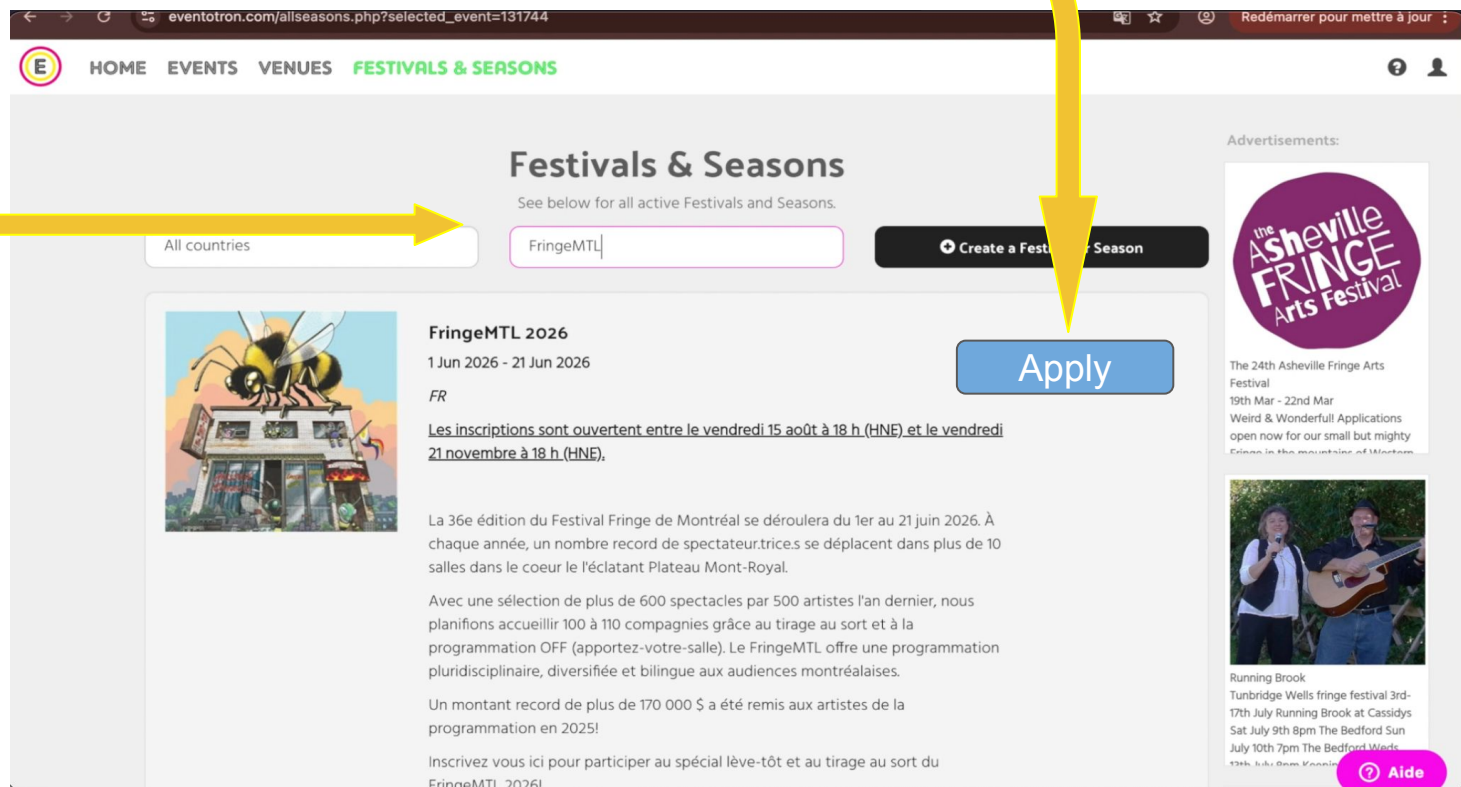

See the public profile for this event...

Enter and track your reviews and media

You or the press manager from a festival or venue can record reviews, images and awards in Eventontronic and choose which ones appear in your public profile and applications to festivals.

7. S'incrimer! Apply!

The screenshot shows the 'FESTIVALS & SEASONS' section of the Montreal Fringe Festival website. It lists benefits of being a non-curated artist, such as artistic freedom and 100% ticketed price. It also lists various performance genres like Theatre, Dance, Poetry, and Comedy. A section titled 'Questions?' provides contact information. Below this, a section for 'Early Bird' applications is shown. At the bottom, there are two radio button options: 'My event is already in Eventotron' and 'I'm creating a new event'. The second option is selected. Below the radio buttons is a text input field labeled 'Nouvel événement / New Event' and a 'Next' button. Two large yellow arrows originate from the text below: one points from the left arrow to the 'My event is already in Eventotron' option, and the other points from the right arrow to the 'I'm creating a new event' option.
